SMOOTHING IRONS!

MANY important improvements have been made since the beginning of the present century, relieving and facilitating the labor of men by machinery and other modern implements, but few have been more neglected until the introduction of the Patent Self Heating Smoothing Iron which will relieve them in a very great degree, from the excessive and fatiguing labor of ironing, besides being a great saving of time and expense. This Iron combines economy, convenience, saving of labor, and despatch—one cent's worth of dry charcoal supplies fuel for a whole day's constant ironing. Hard wood coal from 4 stoves will answer the same purpose. It can be used in any room or in the open air. Letter and Tailors' Irons are constructed upon the same principle, and possess equal superiority.

THE PROPOSED INDIAN WAR.—It is known that the administration demanded of Congress, at the recent session, certain new regiments of troops—representing that the Indian tribes on the Upper Missouri and its vicinity were exceedingly hostile, and that they were urging for a general war upon the emigrants and border settlers. So great was the alarm excited by these reports, that Congress voted to raise, arm and equip the troops called for, and authorized the President to put them into the field. Subsequent developments, however, show that the alarm was probably a scheme got up by persons who wished to create an Indian war for their own pickings and stealings or would afford to contractors, speculators and agents, and the opening it would make for new military appointments. All recent accounts concur in representing the Indians to be peaceably disposed, and very far from having any hostile intentions towards the whites.

In a speech in the House, when the new regiments bill was under discussion, Col. Benton declared with much energy that we had no war with these tribes; that the chiefs of Lieut. Grattan and his command in Fort Laramie was the effect of great misconduct on the part of that officer; and that the deprada lions committed upon our travelling citizens were chiefly individual acts of retaliation, induced by previous wrong, which any western man acquainted with Indians could settle immediately; and that some of these men, not an army, should be sent out to do the business.

Since that time, he has addressed a letter to the National Intelligencer, in which he says:

My business now is with the new Indian war on the Upper Missouri and the North Platte; and of which war there is no existence, except in the imagination of our administration. I had marked myself publicly on what non-existence of this war, at the time it was so unceremoniously communicated to Congress; and I felt sure of what I said; but, wishing to verify my opinions, in my late visit to Missouri I made inquiries among the citizens, and especially among those best qualified to know, the truth—most interested in knowing it, and soundest in the peril of life and property to make no mistake. I mean the fur-traders, of whom there are many in Missouri, and of the first respectability, and with large capitals employed in trade.

They answered me with one voice that there was no war on the Upper Missouri or North Platte; that they had been carrying on their trade as usual during the winter with the Sioux and other tribes in that quarter, (except in the articles prohibited by the United States officers) and were now fitting out for the field of the present year, without the least apprehension of Indian hostilities. This is what they all told me, from the largest companies, with their hundreds of thousands permanently invested and hundreds of men employed, down to the individual traders, with their temporary outfit of a few wagons and half a dozen men.

Col. Benton gives his opinion that the real object of the new regiments and the new steps of war was Cuba! We think those have been so; that still, it is quite probable that an Indian war will be designedly or foolishly brought on by the reckless and oppressive proceedings on the part of men who are connected with the Indian agencies, and who are on the look-out for opportunities of plunder.

A NEWSPAPER ANNOUNCEMENT.—Having been absent from the city for a day or two, we have not before stated that Daniel Sanborn, Esq., has been announced as an associate editor of the Journal. His salutatory appears on Monday. Mr S. is a good and ready writer, and we would extend to him a courteous welcome to the craft. He says it will be his endeavor, to keep the paper on the track of straight-out "Whigism." The attempt to keep up a party on that platform, such the present times, may be a heroic one, but is manifestly impracticable, so far as any expectation is concerned of its ever prevailing to blame over the pro-slavery, national democratic party, whose principles and practice our straight out friends profess to hold in abhorrence. The utmost they can ever hope to accomplish is this lily, in conjunction with these same democrats, to defeat the party now in power, which while in the same principles on all present issues has been cherished by the old Whig party—and after doing this to join their force in the Legislature, and by that sort of "chosen" process for themselves a small modicum of the offices.

It is to be hoped that the new editor will not fairly vindicate, in his salutatory, the tone which he intends to maintain towards political opponents. We claim for the party which we acknowledge the overthrow of the national democracy in the State, (alas the day!) Whigism was utterly unable to do it), quite as much political honesty, pure patriotism, and freedom from selfishness, as exists among the politicians who find an organ in the Bangor Journal; and this talk about "that nefarious and mongrel party which, based upon no principles but fictitious or stolen ones, now seems to grasp the reins of government for the basest and most selfish purposes," comes with an ill grace from that section of the former Whig party which first proposed its fusion for selfish purposes" with political opponents in the Legislature.

We have no disposition to vex, however, or to bandy epithets. We love sustain the new organization, rather than see independent Whig party, because we believe the same effectual—indeed the only—sectional instrument likely for keeping Maine on the right side in the great questions of the day. The effort to keep up a distinctive Whig party are only giving aid and comfort to the old Democratic party, which hopes a restoration to power from these very efforts of its straight-out friend. The late Bangor Democrat, in view of late municipal contest, says "that the democratic banner will again wave in triumph, and the party again emerge in to light."

EXTRA INCS.—The wants of the paupers have been generously considered by the Mayor and Aldermen of Bangor, in dispensing their fifth installment from the establishment, at the west end of Zanesburg Bridge.

Police Court April 24.—Joseph Burke was fined $50 and costs for having in his possession contrary to law, a quantity of intoxicating liquor. Appealed.

Stephen Doherty, charged with a like offence, was convicted and appealed.

A quantity of liquor was seized in the shop of Cornelius Sullivan on Hancock st.

FOURTH OF JULY—RAILROAD CELEBRATION. At the last session of the City Council, a committee was appointed to confer with the Directors of the Penobscot and Kennebec Railroad, relative to celebrating the opening of that road, in conjunction with a celebration of the coming Anniversary of the Declaration of American Independence. It is supposed the road will be opened by the 4th of July.

At last accounts, Mr. Joseph Hall had sent in his resignation as a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives; and the question was under consideration whether to accept it or to expel the man. The various evidence and reports in his case were referred to a special committee.

Our neighbor W. K. Foster, has received letters patent of the United States, for his method of making lead-pencil sharpeners.—These sharpeners are a very neat and convenient article, and although very simple, yet requiring much mechanical skill and nice adjustment of machinery to provide for their construction.

DEPUTY SHERIFFS FOR PENOBSCOT COUNTY. Sheriff Gilmore has appointed the following Deputies:

John H. Wilson, Bangor.
Benjamin B. Thomas, South Newburg
Joseph Shepard, Dexter.
Nathaniel L. Grenell, Jun.
George D. Bingham, Jr., Hampden Corner.
David C. Plumley, Lincoln.
Richard H. Nason, Kendusk eag.
Daniel Jacobs, Oldtown.
Thomas H. Coombs, Bradford.
Jefferson H. Whitten, Etna.

The luxe and sad mixture so highly valued by agriculturists, a compost of three bushels, of one cask of lime, slacked with water in which one bushel of salt has been dissolved.—This quantity of mixture, with eight bushels of ashes, composted with one cord of muck, makes a first fertilizing dressing for the garden.

A WARNING TO COOKS.—A man was killed in Cincinnati, on the 2d instant, by swallowing part of a single raisin in a piece of bread. The meal was one which had been used in securing the hoops of the flour barrel—the part projecting through having broken off and falling into the flour. A hegleet to sift the flour, when used, brought the real into the bread, and the bread carried it into the man.

For the Daily Whig and Courier.

A. B. EDMONDS says by a circular, that a line of telegraph is about being constructed from Boston to Providence and Holmes Hole.—This has been long needed, and many a noble ship and crew might have been saved, had there been the means at hand to convey intelligence of their positions upon this dangerous coast.

The circular proposes to notify at once by posting these points, of the states of the weather east and west along the coast, and warn them of approaching storms, to give prompt report of all disasters within reach of the telegraph, and to report all arrivals and departures from those places. The immense advantage of such a line must be apparent to every one, and to a community so deeply interested in shipping as we are, it commends itself at once. B.

VARIOUS MATTERS.—New York, April 23.—The Right Rev. Dr Doane was yesterday consecrated Roman Catholic Bishop of Portland, Me. in St Patrick's Cathedral, by Archbishop Hughes. All the leading dignitaries of the Church were present, including Bishop Fitzpatrick of Boston.

A gentleman from Stamford, named Hoyce, who has been staying at the city for about a fortnight past, has, it is said, been fleeced of about $160,000 at the various gambling houses which he visited, and on Saturday attempted to commit suicide by taking laudanum. Medical remedies were applied, and it is thought he will recover.

It is stated that two recruiting offices in this city, and one in Albany, are to be opened to-day for the enrollment of names for the World League, in view of the probability of a rupture with Spain. The officers mostly be ongod to the New York Volunteers in the Mexican Campaign.

TURNKEY OF THE HOUSE.—The Albany Journal of Saturday says that the new post rapidly publish Friday night, and the police in the lower part of the city had quite a time in awakening the inmates and warning them to save themselves and their furniture before the water entered their doors and windows. On Saturday noon all the stores, warehouses and dwellings in the city, adjacent to the river, were inundated. The buildings on the dock and pier could only be reached in boats, and many cellars were flooded. The basement of Stanwix Hall was covered with water, and the river was still rising.

THE SAXON ENGLISH OF THE BIBLE. Mr French in his recent work on the English language, thus compares the Protestant version of the Bible with the Douay or Catholic version:

"Upon the Douay version at Gen. v. 19, which is the long list of the 'works of the flesh,' and 'fruits of the Spirit,' is given. But what could a mere English reader make of words such as these: 'impudicitiæ,' 'abusiones,' 'commentationes,' 'longanimitas,' all which occur in that passage! while our version has or 'uncleanness,' 'lasciviousness,' 'revellings;' 'longanimity,' 'long-suffering.' Or set over against one another such phrases as these: 'In the Douay,' 'the exemplares of the celestials,' (Heb. ix., 23,) but in ours, 'the patterns of the things in the heavens.' Or suppose, in the end of the words which we read at Luke xxiii. 18, name you do good and to commend us, 'to get you,' or with ours 'sacrifice God is well pleased'—we read as follows, which are the words of Douay: 'Sacrifice to God commendation do not forgate for with such hosts God is prospered'—who does not feel how great and enduring our loss would have been, how it would have stretched like the whole religious life of our people, if the translation used by them had been composed in such Latin-English as this!

DEATH OF THE AUTHORESS OF UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.—The English papers announce the death of Miss Nelson, formerly Miss Bront who was the author of "Currer Bell," wrote Jane Eyre, Shirley, and Villette. She died at Haworth in Yorkshire.

For the Daily Whig and Courier.

Methodist Missions.

Fanny once banished the Bible from her shores, and her soil was enamoured and her waters laged with the blood of thousands of her best citizens. Next to France, a land where heathenism itself has been degraded by the "sum of all villainies," we are, perhaps, interested in the success and prospects of missions where infidelity has once held undisputed sway. Amidst the gloom of infidelity, Popery spread its darkness over this land, mingled its ignorance and superstitions with the deep-rooted enmity to truth already existing, and a stronger barrier to the gospel could hardly be imagined.

Home mission was commenced and continued some years, with considerable success, by the Wesleyan Methodists of England. For certain reasons, hoping to increase its success, during the past year, by mutual arrangements, that body and French mission conference, was transferred to the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States.

The Romish Catholic Church authorities have manifested much zeal, and labored with essential success, in opposing our missionaries in France, and, indeed all Protestant movements. Acting through the state authorities, they have generally suppressed all public preaching in Corsica and some other places, except on funeral occasions. To renounce the absurdities of communion exposes in some instances at least, to the bitterness of persecution, as the following brief extract from the account of a Corsican youth of fifteen brought to the light of gospel truth, will show. "He suffers in a lamb-like spirit the combined persecutions, and the terrible chastisements of the frere and normanne or priestly school-masters, and of his father who wished him to give up his Protestantism. It is impossible to say what these abominable freres will do to this poor boy; his hands are all over sores with the blows which he has received from them, so that he is hardly able to use them."

Amidst all these opposing elements, the gospel is steadily gaining influence. In some places where Protestant blood has flowed freely in times past, the descendants of those who applied the axe and faggot are now asking for the gospel. In a certain valley, called, ever ever since St. Louis, during the reign of Louis XIV, six hundred Protestants, men women, and children, were either burned alive, or smothered with the smoke of fire, kindled by the agents of home, in caves, in which they had retired to avoid their persecutors. The descendants of those Romish families, who took the places of those whom they had so barbarously murdered, have recently requested the visits of the missionary, and there are hopes of their turning to the truth.

As fear of execution operates against an open profession of Protestant sentiments, it is impossible to determine to what extent the principles of the gospel are gaining favor among the people. The work is, however, spreading silently and deeply, and reaches even the priesthood. Under the curtain of night, the priest rape at the door of the missionary, and gaining admission, whispers in his ear, "Courage is ripe for Protestantism—the people are impatient, very impatient, they can bear the priests no longer. The people are ready to fly to you, sir, I am obliged to hide my sympathies, because I am alone separated, but when I am single spouse, I will be with you." And again the minister writes—"from the interior of the island, (Corsica,) I continue to receive encouraging news. I am really surprised to hear how fully the people are aware of our purposes and principles. A few days since, a priest, from the country, came to one of our friends to say that he was desirous of seeing me, and of receiving advice and encouragement. He added that fourteen of his friends, priests were waiting for a fitting opportunity to throw off their robes, and embrace the gospel."

This Mission Conference, has twenty-five missionaries and twenty-nine local preachers, with one hundred and thirty preaching places, and a membership of one thousand two hundred and sixty-two scholars, taught gratuitously by one hundred and forty-five teachers.

The increase of Church members the past year was two hundred and fifty, besides one hundred and sixty seven on probation.

CALAMUS.

SHOWING FACTS IN FAVOR OF THE NEW LIQUOR LAW. We understand that the Board of Aldermen in Bangor have already adopted rules for the government of their City Agency, similar to those which will be required by the new liquor law. The difference in the amount of sales for medicinal purposes in the short space of a week is prodigious, and affords in itself one of the striking proofs of the superiority of the provisions of the new enforcer those of the one now in operation. We take from the Bangor Whig the following, note, showing the contrast in the number of sales, and the amount received at the City Agency under the two different systems. Under the old system: Whole number of sales for four weeks, 26 amounting to $112.29
Average per week, 6½, amounting to $28.07

Under the new system for one week immediately following the above four, the whole number of sales was thirty-three, and the amount received $14 20 a decrease of 35 per cent. or, in other words, the sales for a week under the new system were only about one-twentieth of what they were for the same period under the old.

We may expect, therefore, with entire confidence, that when the new law goes into full operation the traffic in intoxicating liquors will be entirely broken up; so near so, at least, as prohibitory enactments can effect that end. It is against this law that the opposition are preparing to make deadly war; they boldly proclaim that they are for "a repeal," and their success would be emphatically a rum victory. Will the people of Maine stand by her temperance code, or see it trampled under foot by a corrupt party, rendered reckless and infuriate by popular condemnation and defeat? We have little fear of the answer that will be given to this question at the polls in September next.—Kennebec Journal.

IMPORTANT IF TRUE.—New York, April 23.—The Herald this morning publishes a despatch dated Liverpool, April 7, R. M. Hunt before the Nashville sailed, stating that great negotiations were then in consequence of the receipt of a private despatch from London, announcing a great battle at Sapatoria, the defeat of the Russians, with a loss of 6000 men, and the death of Omar Pasha.

[The wires of course by this time double.]

NEW NEGOTIATIONS.

The Vienna Conference was not in session at last accounts. One account says it has adjourned for the Easter Holidays, and another states that in the sitting of the Conference on the 7th, "it was agreed that the decision on the third and fourth points should be adjourned until the arrival of M. Drouyn de L'Huys at Vienna. Immediately on the arrival of the French Minister for Foreign Affairs, the deliberations on the third point will be re-opened." Nothing authentic with regard to the deliberations of the Conference has transpired.

The Paris Presse has the following statement with regard to the negotiations, which looks plausible:

"With regard to the famous third point, we learn that the Allies, for its interpretation, proposed that the Black Sea, in future, should not be visited by the ships-of-war of any nation—but that proposal could not bear criticism, and it was felt to be impossible that a power like Russia with its extensive coast and considerable provinces on the water, could be left without the necessary naval means of protection for its territories. A second proposition was, we understand, then made by the Allies, that the Straits of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus should be open to all powers, and that England and France should be permitted to maintain an equal number of ships-of-war with Russia in the Black Sea. The court of St. Petersburg made no difficulty on this head. It was quite content that the treaty of 1841 should not only be revised, but abrogated; the result of this second proposition, of course, being that the Russian fleet would be free at all times to enter the Mediterranean.

"Here, however, the Sublime Porte interposed, and remembered the main essence of the treaty of 1841 as indispensable to the independence and integrity of Turkey. These two profound suggestions having fallen to pieces, a resource was found in a third proposition, that the numerical force of the Russian navy in the Euxine should be limited; and it is from a want of agreement as to the degree of this condition that the labors of the Congress have for a moment been suspended, and the representatives of Russia have required fresh instructions from their government."

FROM THE CRIMEA.

There seems to be more activity, both on the part of the besieged and besiegers, at Sebastopol, but there is no authentic report of a vigorous offensive movement on the part of the Allies. The Russians continue to make sorties upon the advanced works of the Allies, and are evidently gaining in confidence. Letter of the 22d of March was par of much gallantry, and attended with severe loss on the part of the Russians, but accounts differ as to the results. According to the accounts of Gen Osten-Sacken, the sortie which he had directed against the allied lines in front of the Malakhoff tower had proved successful, although the loss on both sides was severe. Gen Canrobert, however states that the sortie on the 22d, so far from having been crowned with the usual success, had resulted in a total failure, and the slaughter, though severe, was disproportionate to what the Allies had to regret the loss of 600 men that of the enemy amounted to 2000 men, killed and wounded.

Russia.

From Odessa, Warsaw, and Vienna, we have advices all speaking of the immense efforts which Russia is making to oppose an overwhelming force of the Allies in the Crimea. We will permit the correspondents to be misled by the figures which the Hungarian journals produce, to produce, and continue, we must still admit that the evidence abundantly shows that the Russians are augmenting their armies by new arrivals to which the reinforcements of the Allies bear but a feeble proportion.

Accounts from St. Petersburg state that the Grand Dukes Michael and Nicholas are making preparations to cave for the Crimea. The Grand Duke Constantine was about to inspect the fortresses on the coast of the Gulf of Finland. Two fortified camps, each of 30,000 men, have been established between Wilna and Riga, Brest and Narva, for the defence of the provinces of the Baltic.

FROM THE DANUBE.

Letters from Galatz of the 15th of March say that it is to have been officially announced by the Austrian consul that the Russians will permit the free navigation of the Danube only to Austrian vessels laden with breadstuffs purchased by Austrian subjects prior to the prohibition of exports, and provided that such cargoes be destined for Austrian ports in the Adriatic. No supplies of grain, therefore, are to be expected from that quarter, until peace shall have been concluded, or until the Russian bank of the river shall have been cleared by a Turkish or Austrian army.

THE MILLIONAIRES OF NEW YORK. The New York correspondent of the Charleston Courier makes the following mention of the millionaires of that city:

"Wm. B Astor is our richest man; he inherited his wealth. Stephen Whitney has a million; owes his fortune to speculations in real estate. Wm Aspinwall, four millions, came of a rich family, and quintupled his income o wealth in the shipping business. James Lenox, three millions, which he inherited.—The late Peter Harmony, two millions came to this city as a cabin boy, and grew rich by commerce. The Lorillards, two millions—came from France poor, and made their huge fortune in the tobacco and snuff business. The late Anson G Phelps, two millions;—learned the trade of a miner and made a fortune in iron and copper. Alexander D Stewart two millions, now of the dry goods palace; began business in a little fancy store. Others who are put down for a million and a half, George Law began life as a farm laborer, Cornelius Vanderbilt as a boatman, John Jacob Astor as a steward to Joseph Bonaparte. Of the millionaires, James Chesterman began life as a journeyman tailor, and Peter Cooper as a glue-maker. George Bancroft, Henry Ulmes, Professor Anthon, Thomas Mckinlith and Dr. Francis are each stated to possess a hundred thousand dollars. Elliot Forrest is paid a quarter of a million; says Sidney E Morse, of the New York Observer. Wm. Niblo, it appears, has four hundred thousand dollars, and Dr Mott two hundred thousand. Barnum is put down at eight hundred thousand. Benedict at a hundred and fifty thousand. But perhaps the most remarkable statement of all is, that Mrs. Child of New York, has made a quarter of a million dollars by keeping school."

From Dunham's "History of the Hen Fever."

Royalcochan chinatuns.

One day in the height of the epidemic, I was visited by a Southern gentleman, who became a purchaser in the manner and at the prices below related:

A few years old stag mounted the fence at this moment, and been forth an electrifying crow, such as would as that period, have taken a novice right out of his boots, and a beautiful eight pound pullet showed herself beside him at the same time. The ranger turned round and said—

"There! What is your price for such a pair as that, for instance?"

"Not the sale, sir."

"But you will sell them s'pose?"

"No sir. I have younger ones to dispose of, but that pair are my models. I cannot sell them."

The gentleman's eye was quickly filled with this pair of chickens.

"What will you take for those two fowls?"

"One hundred dollars, sir," I replied.

"I guess you will," he then you get it," he added. "Name your lowest price, now for those two. I will positively have them."

"I prefer to keep them, rather than to part with them at any price," I insisted. "If, however, a gentleman like yourself who evidently knows what good fowls are, desires to procure the best specimens in the country, why, I confess to you that those are the persons into whose hands I prefer that my best stock should fall. But I will show you some at a lower figure," I continued, driving them from the fence.

"Don't you, Don't drive 'em away," said the gentleman. "Let's see. That's the cock."

"Yes sir."

"And this is the hen."

"Yes."

"One hundred dollars! you don't mean this, of course," he persisted.

"No, I mean I would rather keep them sir."

"Well—I'll ——— take them," said the stranger. "It's cruel. But I'll take them," and he paid me five twenty dollar gold pieces down on the spot for two ter months old chickens, from my Royal Cochin China fowls.

He had a tender spot somewhere, but I had hit during the conversation, I presume. He took the two chickens into his buggy, and I have never seen him from that day to this. I trust, however, if these few lines should ever meet his eye, that his poultry turned out well, and that he is himself in good health and spirits.

I called this valiant young cock Frank Pierce, in honor of my valiant friend now at the White House at Washington. It will be seen that I thus sold Frank for fifty dollars, a sum which the majority of the people of this country have since emphatically determined was a good deal more than he was ever worth.

HARTFORD, April 22.—The Connecticut river has risen twenty-one and a half feet. Flooding all the lower part of the city this morning. It has now stopped rising. The weather is fine. Col. Colt's dyke, about four miles in length, surrounding his stupendous manufacturing village, &c., is what is known as the South Meadow, has proved trustworthy. For the first time within the memory of man, this meadow has been protected from the annual flood.

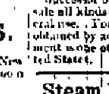
Steam Ferry Boat for sale.



The Proprietors offer for sale the Steamboat "ELIZABETH," which for several years has run as a Ferry Boat between this city and Cape Elizabeth. She was built in 1847, measures 140 tons, is 100 feet in length, and has a low pressure engine of 40 horse power. With trifling expense she would make a good tow boat. She is a well built boat, and has an excellent engine; she will be sold at a bargain, and for "no fault"—is small for a boat, if any, being wanted, one that can be run at half the expense.

It being a liquid is one most carefully prepared from extracts and gums of roots, fruits and herbs applicable to. There are no pills in use that will act upon the Liver, Pancreas, Bowels, the Salivary Glands and Nerves as pleasantly and effectually as the R R Regulators. No one can be taken for any length of time with the same safety to the constitution, for, instead of debilitating the system by powerful and drastic purging, they act pleasantly upon the bowels, and impart strength to every nerve and tissue of the body.

Regulators vs. Pills.

We are continually asked, What is the difference between Radway's Regulators and ordinary pills?

We answer that pills, as they are ordinarily prepared and sold by different manufacturers, are generally composed of mineralizing which operate on the bowels merely. Pills are positive poisons, and those which create the secretion of the liver, and are called mercurial or liver pills. Radway's Regulators resemble pills not in any shape, but differ in every other characteristic. They act solely on the bowels but on the liver, skin, pancreas and kidneys, by regulating each organ to a healthy action. They are not drastic, and never cause pain, but mild positive pills do. They stimulate the liver without endangering the patient with salivation, as mercurial pills do, containing no mineral in their composition, they are harmless when taken for a length of time. They are tasteless, be ing enveloped in an elegant resinous gum. It is irregulator, 3 to 6 purges—good in all times.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

For the Cure of Consumption,

The superiority of this medicine was first manifested, many years ago, restored to low use the generality of physicians and friends, in the first stages of Consumption. Which all hopes of ever getting it were fled, he was strongly recommended to try a Sympathetic from an old friend, which he accordingly did, and in a few weeks found a large number of respectable Ladies and Gentlemen in the city of this case, who spoke of the Pulmonic Syrup obtained a reputation, to our equal on that section of the country. Certain, with the above fact, a sensation occurred to many of our druggists, Dr. Schenck was called upon by many similarly affected, to obtain the remedy with the same fortunate results. In fact it was the notoriety of his medicine, that many physicians had their attention drawn toward the Pulmonic and encouraged many to try it. Schenck also introduced the medicine to the public agency of their own practice.

Some of the above quotes push the statement in the most that the Pulmonic Syrup (each). It promotes a healthy action in the morbid parts, by causing them to throw off the matter from the expectorating, allays the cough, expels the matter in the lungs, and when it is discharged, it heals the ulcerating that the breaking of the tubercles or abscesses, and the lungs become sound and resume the performance of their natural actions, I also employ other medicines a portion of the lungs and liver organs, and thus I produce the most effectual results. A supreme property the medicine possesses of others is, that it controls the appetite, and any other deleterious medicine.

Dr. J. H. Schenck removed from Philadelphia to Philadelphia, and continues on the practice of his profession, where he would be pleased to see those who may require his services. Dr. Schenck is the only physician who has ever successfully treated Consumption by the use of Sea Weed, Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, which are employed in the manner directed by Dr. Schenck himself. Dr. Schenck is the only physician who has ever successfully treated Consumption by the use of Sea Weed, Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, which are employed in the manner directed by Dr. Schenck himself.

VOLUNTARY TESTIMONY.

We, the undersigned, residents of Huntington, do hereby certify that we are well acquainted with Dr. J. H. Schenck. He was attacked by disease, which, as we believe, terminated in Consumption. From a point under the age which he was reduced so low as to be unable to leave his bed for a long time, and to all appearance was past recovery. He now perfectly well—able to go and attend to the business of his profession, and we feel justified in saying that the salutary effects have arisen from the use of his Pulmonic Syrup.

The Most Successful Remedy

REV. WALTER CLARKE'S

Pure, European Cough Remedy,

—AND—

Universal Cough Mixture,

Unquestionably the best remedy for Coughs and Bronchial Pulmonary diseases ever discovered.

Read the following certificates, and remember that they all from persons of first rate reputation, and that you will have to go to Boston, and pay a large fee to get the same advice and cure as directed by them—Remember, Dr. Clarke's Remedies are all prepared and sold in Portland, and you will save time, money, and disappointment by getting them there.

From Dr. John Hunt Liberty, Me

Dear Sir—I have made use of your European Cough Remedy enough with which I have been afflicted for some time, it may restore satisfaction, and also complete a thorough practice with the best of results, and am fully convinced that it is one of the best medicines in use for what it professes to be, and I cheerfully recommend it to the afflicted.

JOHN HUNT, M. D.

Mr. A. HUNNEWELL, of Scarborough, had for two years and a months been afflicted with a most distressing cough, with extreme soreness of the lungs, and other painful symptoms. During this time he had employed good physicians, and taken much by all their popular advertised medicines with little or no benefit, and having at last given up all hope of ever being permanently benefited, and believing he was about to go into the world upon the verge of the consumption, was persuaded by the Rev. Walter Clarke to try his Cough Remedy. After taking one bottle, 25 cts., greatly relieved him and encouraged him to try a large bottle, 75 ct., and to the astonishment of all who knew her, these two bottles, with all my other medicine, soon healed, completely restored her to health, and I believe saved her life.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunnewell both themselves ready to ascertain all enquiries respecting the above cures, and are certain that the European Cough Remedy is the best remedy known for Coughs and disorders of the Chest and Lungs and especially recommend it to the afflicted.

The above named Mrs. Winslow, a neighbor of her neighbors, who was considered by his friends in the consumption, was persuaded by the European Cough Remedy, and the result was a rapid recovery.

Rev. Arabella Crane of Portland, with severe Cough, was unwilling by Mr. Brewster, Postmaster at Cattle Corner, Aug. 20th, 1853. Rev. Walter Clark—Dear Sir Mr. Samuel Shaw, residing in Greene, Androscoggin county, Me., has been afflicted with the Phthisic for a number of years. For the past winter he was distressed for breath that he could not lie down. At last hearing of the Pulmonary Cough Remedy, he sent for a bottle and immediately taking it. He was greatly relieved by the first dose, and from that time he rested well at nights. A few bottles completed the cure, and he now feels free to recommend the medicine to others, as it is fully shown that it is worthy of the most confidence.

The following has just been received from John Dresser, Esq., agent for Paris, Me., dated Nov. 8, 1855:

Rev. Sir—You will recollect that when you were here I had a severe cough of three months standing, I had tried all the cough medicines I could obtain without success. Your medicine has cured it. It has also cured many of my neighbors. Please send me some more medicine immediately.

Yours, &c., JOHN DRESSER.

Rev. T. Oliver, West Waterville, testifies to the extraordinary cure of a lady, who, to all appearance was in the last stage of consumption, so that it was thought she could last but a short time. A single bottle cured her cough, and she speedily recovered. Rev. Oliver states that he knows another person who a long time had been afflicted with the same disease, who, after several bottles of the Universal Cough Mixture.

H. H. BODFISH,
Solicitor of Patents.

During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, H. H. BODFISH, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. Those were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best attorneys and solicitors Patents, both in the United States, and have a personal interest in assisting inventors to obtain their just rights, as I consider him competent and trustworthy, and more capable of procuring those applications an early action to secure for them as early and favorable consideration as Patents Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner Patents.
